

The Librarian's Corner

Happy New Year! The holidays are sweetly fading into our memories; and now, because we are human, we approach the new year with guilty resolve. It is 2022, and we will finally... (fill in the blank). In this month's recommendation, Max Lucado, Christian author of over 100 books, offers a way forward. The title of his book is Begin Again, Your Hope and Renewal Start Today. In it, he recounts personal stories meant to encourage us to trust God and rely on Him for guidance. God is a God of fresh starts. No matter what the goals are for the new year, we can ask Him to help us along the path. I leave the past behind and with hands outstretched to whatever lies ahead I go straight for the goal. - Philippians 3:13-14. This book received a 5-star rating on Amazon and is available at the W. T. Bland library.

Your friend, Maryann Severino